The main content area features a blue banner with the text "missionmba" and a group photo of students. Below this is the article title: "Cracking the quant section of CAT: apply basic concepts for a high score". The article is categorized under "EDUCATION" and is dated "Updated: Nov 29, 2016 20:13 IST". The author is identified as "HT Education Correspondent, Hindustan Times, New Delhi".

A large photograph shows a group of students in a classroom setting, with a female student in the foreground smiling. To the right of the article, there are several promotional and recommended content blocks:

- A promotional feature titled "The 2016 smartphone winter rush is here".
- A section titled "recommended for you" with a list of three empty slots.
- An "editor's pick" section featuring a book review for "SILVER: The Spy Who Double-Crossed Netaji" and a news item about "Equal abortion rights for single women: A positive first step".
- A small section at the bottom right titled "Legion: Meet the hackers".
